The Upside Down Kingdom

The conversation around power and authority is tricky for teenagers who want to experience freedom and learn what a healthy relationship with authority means. In this series, we want teenagers to learn about authority and power from the best example there is: Jesus. In a world that is power hungry, Jesus demonstrated the way of the upside down kingdom by using His power to love.

MEMORY VERSE

“A new command I give you:
Love one another. As I have loved you, so you must love
one another.”
John 13:34, NIV

Week One

Genesis 1:26, Matthew 28:18a

Jesus turned the idea of power upside down.

Week Two

1 Samuel 24:1-4, 1 Samuel 24:12-15

In the upside down kingdom, honor is greater than power.

Week Three

Matthew 22:37-40, 2 Timothy 1:7

In the upside down kingdom, power is for lifting up, not tearing down.

ENGAGE IN EVERYDAY MOMENTS TOGETHER

Morning Time

As your high schooler starts their day, tell them something you are thankful for about them or something you appreciate they did recently.

Their Time

Be available and accessible for when they want to talk. (Keep in mind, it may be late.)

Meal Time

At a meal this week, ask your teen, “Other than our family, what are some examples of good authority in your life? What are some examples of bad authority? What can we learn from both?”

Bed Time

Pray, “God, help us to trust in You—even when we’re not sure what You are doing. Help us to remember how You’ve led us in the past and how You are continuing to lead us for whatever is next.”
